

Lesson 3:

Vaccine-preventable Diseases

Quiz

Circle the correct answer.

- Vaccines:
 - provide protection from specific diseases
 - are the most effective means of controlling infectious diseases
 - take advantage of the body's immunologic memory
 - all of the above
- Respiratory droplets are produced when doing all of the following except:
 - touching contaminated surfaces
 - coughing
 - sneezing
- Which of the following can cause chronic liver disease?
 - hepatitis B
 - diphtheria
 - hepatitis A
 - a and c
- The most common sexually transmitted disease is:
 - influenza
 - mumps
 - human papillomavirus
 - varicella
- Outcomes from rubella are worst among:
 - high-school students
 - pregnant women
 - the elderly
 - adolescents

Fill in the blanks.

- Tetanus is unique because _____.
- In February of 2010, the Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices (ACIP) recommended _____ for all people in the United States age 6 months and older.
- Define epidemic: _____

- Coughing and sneezing produce _____, which can _____
_____.

