

HOW TO SUPPORT REACH OUT AND READ

Children's Hospital of Philadelphia (CHOP)

Thank you for your interest in the Reach Out and Read (ROR) program at Children's Hospital of Philadelphia (CHOP) Primary Care Centers. Reach Out and Read, a national nonprofit organization started at Boston City Hospital in 1989, works to strengthen families with young children through guidance from medical clinicians about nurturing relationships through shared reading. We envision a world where every child has the relationships essential to learn and thrive. There are 6,500 primary care medical offices in the nation that have ROR. In deep partnership with a network of clinicians, ROR leverages the near-universal reach of the pediatric well-child visit, using brand-new children's books and shared reading to support parents and caregivers in fostering healthy relationships with their infants and young children, from newborn through 5 years old. Reach Out and Read works directly with pediatric primary care medical providers to share the lifelong benefits that result from parents reading aloud with their children every day.

Reach Out and Read at CHOP started in 1996 and is implemented at 22 outpatient CHOP Primary Care Centers located in Northwest, West and South Philadelphia, the PA suburbs (Broomall, Chalfont, Coatesville, Collegeville, Kennett Square, Media, Norristown, Pottstown, Souderton, Springfield, West Chester and West Grove), and the NJ suburbs (Burlington Township, Gibbsboro and Moorestown). Reach Out and Read is also incorporated at seven CHOP Neonatal Follow-up Programs and one Cardiac Developmental Follow-up Program. This year, the primary care doctors and nurse practitioners at the CHOP ROR sites will need to provide 162,000+ brand-new books to nearly 100,000 patients, newborn through 5 years.

Reach Out and Read at CHOP relies 100% on donations and support from schools, community groups, corporations, families, and individuals, through grants, fundraisers, and book drives. Below are some ways to get involved.

Contribute to the Reach Out and Read Endowment at CHOP

Through the generosity of a family whose commitment to Reach Out and Read at CHOP spans 23 years, we established a permanent endowment. Fostering literacy and a love of reading opens countless avenues for success and lifelong joys for children. One of the most meaningful, and lasting, ways to support the ROR program at CHOP Primary Care Centers is through giving to the program's endowment. An endowment is a permanent investment that grows over time while providing steady annual funding to continue and expand initiatives. Program growth is sustained by using a portion of the fund's net value each year, while leaving the fund's balance intact. Just as reading is a gift that keeps on giving, donations to the endowment provide perpetual support for our program's efforts to improve the way children live and grow. To learn more, please call CHOP Foundation at 267-426-6500 or visit <https://www.chop.edu/giving>.

Fundraisers

Have a fundraiser to collect money so the coordinator of Reach Out and Read at CHOP can purchase at least 162,000 wonderful brand-new books this year. It costs $50 to provide brand-new books for one child in this program, through each of the child's 14 primary care well visits (checkups) from newborn through 5 years of age. Donors in the past have had success encouraging families, groups or individuals to sponsor a child by donating Reach Out and Read costs for a child. If you plan to have an event to raise funds for Reach Out and Read at CHOP, please call CHOP Foundation at 267-426-6500 or complete the online form at <https://www.chop.edu/giving/get-involved/fundraise>.

Book Drives

This is a wonderful way for anyone to get involved in helping others and book drives are fun to do. Please read page 2.

DONATING BOOKS TO REACH OUT AND READ

Children's Hospital of Philadelphia (CHOP)

The Reach Out and Read program is implemented at 22 outpatient CHOP Primary Care Centers located in Northwest, West and South Philadelphia, the Pennsylvania suburbs (Broomall, Chalfont, Coatesville, Collegeville, Kennett Square, Media, Norristown, Pottstown, Souderton, Springfield, West Chester and West Grove), and the New Jersey suburbs (Burlington Township, Gibbsboro and Moorestown). Reach Out and Read is also at seven outpatient CHOP Neonatal Follow-up Programs and one outpatient Cardiac Developmental Follow-up Program.

The staff and families at these outpatient primary care centers truly appreciate donations of funds and or appropriate, wonderful children's books. Below are guidelines that were developed out of respect for families and in keeping with the philosophy of Reach Out and Read – every child deserves good quality books.

NEW BOOKS

- In order for the CHOP primary care pediatricians and nurse practitioners to provide new books in the exam rooms during primary care well visits and promote best practices for parents and children, the Reach Out and Read program needs funds to purchase at least 162,000 brand-new, developmentally, culturally and linguistically appropriate books annually for nearly 100,000 patients, ages newborn through 5 years old.
- We are always in great need of brand-new books for infants and toddlers (newborn, 1, 2, 4, 6, 9, 12, 15, 18, 24 and 30 months old). The Reach Out and Read program coordinator at CHOP purchases the new books, at a significant discount, that our Reach Out and Read sites need for their patient families. Therefore, we appreciate and need monetary contributions, as funding makes a significant impact - -
